Our Relation to Foreign Countries Fully Discussed.

NO DEFINITE ACTION TAKEN.

Arbitrary Measures Will Not He Resorted to For the Present-An Explanation Expected From the Different Countries Invoived in the Present Compileations. No Answer From Spain.

Washington, March 23.-The cabinet meeting yesterday lasted but two hours, everybody being present but Secretary Carlisle, who is in New York. The sessiou is said to have been uneventful, thereby disuppointing the expectations of those who looked for some decided aggressive action in foreign affnirs. It ls also said that there was an entire absence of friction between the member, although the principal subjects under discussion, relating to the various complications into which we have become involved with certain foreign countries, were well calculated to exhibit divergence of individual views.

It is presumed that the attitude of Great Britain toward Venezuela and Nicaragnu wus canvassed, but as far as ran be gathered the secretary of state had no new matter tonehing this to impart, and it was not believed to be necessary to take any positive action in the absence of an explicit statement of the purposes of Great Britain.

As far as the Nicaraguan matter is concerned, it is not believed that our government is disposed to take issue with Great Britain as to her right to demand an indenuity for the unjust treatment of her consular agent and citizens, inasmuch as the United States has already and repeatedly gone on record as insisting on its own right in such cases to seeme reparation for improper treatment of its citizens. The only point upon which there can be a question is as to the method of collecting the indeminty, but there is reason to believe that in the view of the eabinet, the subject need cause no real trouble, as Nicaragua doubtless will agree to meet reasonable demands from Great Britain when it is made clear to her by our department of state that she can not do otherwise than rely upon the moral support of the United States, which might otherwise be disposed to use its good offices to seeme an abatement of the amount of indemnity if the principle of an indemnity is conceded. The situation as to Venezuela is believed to be giving the cabinet more concern by far, but as a treaty stated, it is the disposition to take no arbitrary nction in the absence of a statement from Great Britain.

In view of the more weightier matters now engaging the attention of the administration, it is stated that foreign ministers in Washington are likely to be at least for the present, left undisturbed in their relations with our government. No answer beyond a purely perfunctory one, acknowledging the re ceipt of our communication and promising to make investigation, has been returned to Spain to our demand in the Alliancu affair, and while under ordinary conditions, this might be resented by our government, a disposition was shown by the cabinet to make all due allowance for the fact that as a result of the overturning of the Spanish cabinet, the subordinates there dare not do anything to compromise the incoming cabinet.

Greetlands was about two-thirds laden with a general cargo valued at about $100,000, and the hull was worth about that amount also.

She was commanded by Captain E. Coullard, who hails from Quebec and was manned by a crew of 21. Ordinarily she should have made the trip to the Cuban coast in about six days. The Greetlands is iron and of 1,091 tons burden. She is about 230 long, 33 feet beam and 16 feet deep of hold. She hails from Quebec, is owned by F. W. AN IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS.

The Volume of Domestic Trade Gains a Lillle, Money Is in Much Beller Legillmale Demand, and the Force of Hands at Work Gradually Increases in Some In-

NEW YORK, March 28.-R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Indications of improvement in business grow more distinct. The most obtrnsive of them, the speculative advance in cotton and in stocks, is the least reliable, nor can either of these be said to reflect actual improvement in business conditions. Railroad earnings are scarcely better, und the speculation is largely based on expectation of more effective monopoly in coal and some other products. London was buying largely, but as likely to sell on any rise. Cotton does not rise because there is more demand for goods, but there is more demand for goods because cotton is dearer.

More valuable indications are that the volume of domestic trade gains a little, money is in much better legitimate demund, and the force of hands at work grudually increases in some industries and in others is restricted only by strikes, which are presamably tempo-

The rise in cutton to 6.31 cents still seems to have scarcely any contact with the facts of demand and supply, but had a very substantial basis nevertheless, if, as some maintain, more cotton had been sold in this country for future delivery than could be produced here uutil another crop comes, American stocks were last Friday 1,345,026 bales, against 1,154,700 lust year, with the general expectation that something over 700,000 bales will yet come forward, while foreign stocks of American are 600,000 bales greater than at this date after the great crop of 1891. Receipts continue large, and the movement has really no other basis than a belief that the next crop will be small.

The rise in wheat, which started with the report of wheat in farmers' hands, has been followed by a reaction, so that prices are lower than they were prior to that report, having falling 21-4 cents for the week. Western receipts were 1,388,214 bushels, against 1,633, 331 last year, and for three weeks were practically equal to last year's, while Atlantic exports are small.

Corn has not followed, but after a rise of 51 5-8 cents, holds the price of a week ago, receipts being about a third of last year's and exports insignificant Pork has declined 25 cents per barrel. and lard 10 cents per 100 pounds.

The advance in wages of coke workers raises the cost of fuel for a large proportion of the iron manufacturers, but as yet does not affect prices of iron or its products, as no increase in demand appears. Possibly it is hoped that larger buying will soon prompted by the idea that pig and all products will be rendered more costly, though the large excess of production and producing capacity stands in the way. One scale of 10,000 tons steel rails, one cast pipe contract for 9,000 tons, a bridge and five building contracts aggregating nearly 5,000 tons are reported this week, but pig iron is weak without change, both at the east and at Pittsburg, and no change of consequence is noted in the demand for finished products.

Copper production continues weaker at 9.25 for lake, American production in February being 12,720 tons and foreign 6,739, while tin has risen sharply to 13.9 Lead is wenker with heavy sales, 2,500 tous to domestic and 1,500 to foreign takers at 3.05 to 3.1 cents, but large sales of tinplate are reported with prices a shade stronger.

The rise in cotton has stimulated buying of goods and given confidence to agents. Heavy transactions and some advances in prices appear in southern coarse goods, but not as yet in the fines. While many orders are detained by labor difficulties, there is also much complaint of cancellations, which appear to be justified in some cases by interior quality, but in others not justified at all. Orders for fall are at present small and new business has been quick.

Sales of wool gradually decrease, and for the week are smaller than last year, 4,174,900 ponuds against 4,338,800. For three weeks of March sales indicare about 70 per cent of a full consumption. Failures during the past week have been 275 in the United States, against 244 last year, and 35 in Canada, against William Paul to He Hanged For Killing Ills Falher-in-Law.

GEORGETOWN, O., March 23,-The trial of William Paul, for the murder of his father-in-law, Joseph Yockey, in this county last July, resulted in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The testimony during the trial was to the effect that young Frances Yockey, n 14-year-old girl, and sister to Panl's wife, went to live with the Panls. That all three occupied the same bed, and the girl became in an interesting condition. She went home and told her father, and trouble resulted. Paul went about with a revolver, threatening to kill old man Yockey, because the latter was making trouble over the uffair of

The night of the shooting all the Yockey family, including Paul's wife, were in the sitting oom of old man Yockey's house, when the two youngest boys started out to the barn to turn the horses into the pasture for the night. They saw Panl standing outside, near the chimney, with a pistol in his hand, and immediately ran back into the house, followed by Puul, who, as he reached the door, fired. The bullet struck old man Yockey, who was stunding in the center of the room, killing him instantly. Paul then disappeared but was afterward canght. The defense was insanity.

Over 100 witnesses were examined, and the case was hotly contested by Young & Barnes and Bambaeh & Bambach for the prisoner, and Tarbell & Tarbell for the state. The jury was out three hours, and returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Paul reeeived the verdict with the same indif ference that characterized him all through the trial.

HER DREAM

That Resulted in the Widow Gelling the Pension She Lost,

A short time ugo the old lady dreamed that the doctor was located here and that he owned two drugstores (which is true), and the dream was so vivid that she could actually describe the doctor's appearance and location. The old lady told her story to the special pension examiner and persisted so earnesdy in her belief that the officer, I. J. Mabley, made a trip here, found Dr. Teague, who signed the necessary papers to not take any action concerning the pension. The department has notified matter.' her that the pension will be granted.

A Rumor That Such a Vessel Is Being Fitted Out.

INVASION OF CUBA TO BE MADE.

Men Engaged in New York to to to Cuby, Free Passage to the Island, I'mod Supplied Them and Paid a Salary of Fifty Dollars a Month-Cubau Sympathizers in

NEW YORK, March 23 .- A sensational story was afloat to the effect that a filibustering expedition was being organized in this city. According to the story an attempt is being made to ilt out a large American schooner for the invasion of Cuba. It is stated that the name of the vessel and the addresses of the men who have organized the filibustering expedition are in the hands of the Spanish consul, Mr. Arturo Bal-

It is said that about two weeks ago the Spauish consul was informed that a suspiciously large number of men had been employed to go to t'nba. It was necessary that these men should be citizens of America, otherwise their employers had no "work" for them. The men were to be given free passage to and from the island, food supplied them, and were to be paid a salary of $50 per month. Of those who were hired, the ones who appeared to be entirely trustworthy and likely to keep the secret were told the real nature of the expedi-

The plan was changed, it was said. and it was arranged to send the hired men to Cuba on a steamer of one of the regular lines running to the island, instead of on the chartered schooner. The latter was to be loaded with mnnitions of war and if possible, the cargo wus to be landed on the east end of Cuba, at present the scene of the disturbances there. The details of this plan, it was claimed, was learned through a detective who had been formerly in the employ of the Haytien government during the late revolution on the island.

Mr. Baldusano, the consul general, was told of the story yesterday evening by a representative of the Associated Press. He said very decidedly: "There is not a word of truth in the story. such a craft was being titted out here it would be to the interest of the United States 'to look after it. 'The Spanish government would also take the necessary precautions to prevent the success of the expedition. But I know nothing of the facts detailed and, of course, can

The Cuban Rebellton Causes Uneaslness in Our Sister Republic.

TAMPA, Fla., Murch 23.—The following advices have been received from the City of Mexico through Spanish official sources. In the capitals of the various Mexican states, Cuban committees are raising funds for the insurgents in Cuba. The Spaniards in some localities are offsetting this by preparing to organize for service in support of the crown in Cuba. They have appointed a committee to await on the Spanish minister to ask him to obtain from President Diaz permission to organize such bodies on Mexican soil.

This action has come to the knowledge of Spaniards in Spain, und at least 100 declare they will form themselves into a volunteer company to go to Cuba and enlist in the Spanish cause.

M'GARVEY VS. CAKE.

The Former Continues His Review of the Recent "Half-Hour Talks on the Bible."

The Lexington Preacher Criticises Mr. Cake's Criticisms of the "Book of Books '

I proceeded last week with my review of these "Talks" so far as to notice the ninth specification of the talker's ignorance of his subject. I now give a few more specifications under the same head.

10. In the fifth essay he advances the proposition, that in consequence of what stated that the Jews slew Zacharias, son of Barahe calls an abuse of the twenty-one chias, between the temple and the altar. It epistles in the New Testament, "It should be Zacharias son of Jeholda, notably a would have been far better for Christianity had they never been known beyond; those to whom they were written;" and in this connection he says:

Paul in First Corinthians vii, deciares in three things that he but expresses his opinion, his judgment, and that the Lord had nothing to do tion. Instead of saying that "the Lord I suppose he reasons thus: The Jews did had nothing to do with it," he (Paul) slay Zacharias the son of Jehoida, (2 closes the discussion by saying, at the Chron. 24:20, 221), and therefore they did end of the chapter, "and I think that I not slay Zacharias the son of Barachias. also have the Spirit of God." If Paul But Jesus says they did slay the latter. thought that he had the Spirit, what and my opinion is that Jesus knew more right has Mr. Cake to say that he did about it than Cake does. This Zacharias not have it? To suppose that he was was the prophet whose book we have mark, is the most charitable excuse that Old Testament says nothing. The ex-I can offer for him.

prophets of the Old Testament, he says: support to the assertion could be found fors, but preachers of rightonsness.

They were certainly preachers of rightconsness, and they were certainly not What then did he mean by making this prognosticators, which means men who foretold the future from indications in the present; but to say that "they were in no sense foretellers," is to contradict the propliets themselves, and to reject the testimony respecting them of Jesus and the apostles. Every reader of the to the great age of 969 years and Euoch 905 years. Bible ought to know this, and Cake is far too ignorant to be a preacher if he aggerate Samson's foxes from three does not.

stupid a blunder as could well be imrgined. By the common consent of the tragedy: critics of all schools, the last twentyseven chapters of Isaiah, here called "SecondIsniah," is incomparably the finest piece of prophetical writing in the Bible; and to put the other books mentioned fast as Aaron ran through the camp here in a list of "degenerated" writings, is to make the man who puts them there a laughing stock to all critical students of the Bible.

13. Speaking of the period after the return from Babylon, Mr. Cake says: "The popular religion of this period was a composite of heathenisms and Hebrew cermonialisms. [Where did he get the plural of the two words?] Farther on he says, "Idolatry was not the exception but the rule;" and then he quotes with approval the following from Heber

Newton: The symbolism of the Jernsaiem temple was throughout idoiatrous. Twelve oxen uphoiding the laver, and the horns of the altar, symbols drawn from the prevalent buil worship, the chama iim or sun images, representing the rays of the sun in the shape of a cone, and the charlots and horses of the sun, a very common ancient sym boi, familiar to us in Guido's Anrora.

No man but an ignoramus on the subject could have written this; for it is well known that after the captivity the Jews were never again idolatrous. Read Ezra and Nehemiah, then read Josephus from the date of Nehemiah to the time of John the Baptist, and the falsity of the first two statements quoted above will appear most glaring. The slander against the temple and its symbolism must be recognized as such by every one who has read the account of its constructlon and dedication by Solomon, The horns of the altar, instead of being taken from "bull worship," were nothing but posts into which the sideboards of the altar were framed. They had as little to Baldwin Secretary, or Jno. Duley Treasdo with bull worship as similar projections which can probably be found on so me of the church steeples in Maysville. It is an architectural term. The sun worship, and the horses and chariots of the sun, which he mentions, were forms, of idolatry introduced by the idolaatrous kings of Judah long before the captivity, and destroyed by King Josiah. See II. Kings xxiii. II. Mr. Cake does or other articles of tableware, whether in its Ministers." blumlerer as Cake. At any rate R. II. Newton the rationalist is no authority on such questions.

It is refreshing to read, just after this display of dense ignorance, the following sentence with which this lecture closes:

The above sentiment may be a bomb-shell in the ranks of petrifled conservatism and the settled apathy of ignorance. Then let it be such

It is a straining of metaphor to call the sentiment a bomb-shell at all; but such as it is, it has exploded in the hand of him who was aiming to fire it off; and its flash shows plainly where the ignorance is.

14. In the sixth essay Mr. Cake glances at some "historical errors and numerical exaggerations." I cannot notice all of these now, but will mention a few coming under the head of his ignorance, and leave others for another connection.

Take this from Matthew xxiil. 35, where it is different man. Barachias lived some two hundred years later. See itevised Version.

This is an instance in which ignorance assumes the air of infallibility; for it is Jesus who says they slew Zacharias the son of Barachias, while our Cake claims that he ought to have said Jehoida instead of Barachias. And pray, how does The last statement is a misrepresenta- he know what Jesus ought to have said? tract just made closes with the citation, II. It presents the case precisely as does the old version. citation? I will not guess out aloud.

Was the Beath of an Electric Company Manager.

Petaluma, Cal., March 23.—William 8. Pierce, manager and chief owner of the Petaluma Electric Light and Power company, president of the Pierce Telephone company, president of the California Dairymen's union and one of the most wealthy and prominent citizens, was instantly killed by contact with one of the wires. Driving with an assistant looking for broken wires, the latter climbed a pole in Main Street park, reeeiving a shock which frightened him, and he rapidly descended.

Pierce, who had been ordered to take active exercise for his health, determined to climb a pole, heedless of the assistant's warning. He started to ascend the pole and on reaching the first cross piece, about 40 feet from the ground, sat on it with his legs ustride the big pole. He ran his right hand several times over several wires, when suddenly he touched one from which the insulation had been burned. A sheet of flame immediately shot forth and Pierce, without a sound, dropped backward. His body was still on the cross piece and he hung with bead, hands and feet downward, two heavy wires sustaining the body and keeping it from falling. Citizens soon gathered and the current was cut off at the works.

A hook and ladder truck, which had been hastilly summoned, was utilized in taking the body down. It was a ter-rible task in the storm. The body had been on the pole for about 15 minutes, the current being on for four minutes of the time, and it is estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 volts of electricity passed through the body during the time the current was on.

The blackened remains were carried into an adjacent hotel and several doctors worked for an hour, but resuscitation was impossible.
